

Lester Aldridge releases fixed price litigation advice 2020

Lester Aldridge LLP is one of the first law firms in Dorset and Hampshire to offer fixed fees for comprehensive initial advice in litigation cases.

Aiming to provide LA's clients with all of the essential information needed about a dispute at the start of a case, for a one off fee, helping clients decide how to progress with their cases.

In this new offer, the package will see LA finding out about the claim, writing an initial letter to the opponent, and giving its clients preliminary advice about the likelihood of winning the claim, court procedure, and ways of funding the litigation.

The fixed fee advice scheme is being rolled out initially in commercial litigation cases.

A partner at Lester Aldridge, comments 'At the start of a case, people are likely to need access to legal advice so that they can make informed choices about how best to deal with claims that they might bring, or which are being brought against them. Our solution is intended to address concerns that those same people may have about the potentially uncertain cost of instructing solicitors. Lester Aldridge is now very pleased to offer that essential initial advice to its clients for a fixed price.'
