Lester Aldridge Elects New Chair

Lester Aldridge is pleased to announce that real estate partner Suki Samra has been elected as the firm's new chair.

Suki joined Lester Aldridge in 1999 as a trainee solicitor on the same day as managing partner Matthew Barrow. He qualified as a solicitor in June 2001, became an associate in 2005 and was promoted to partner in 2007. Suki currently heads up the Real Estate Bournemouth team which incorporates the Lender Services team.

Suki takes over from partner Roger Woolley who has been chair of Lester Aldridge for the past 10 years.

Suki said: “I would like to thank Roger for his involvement in developing the firm’s business strategy, and representing the interests of both our clients and colleagues. Having spent my whole career at Lester Aldridge, it is a great privilege to now be appointed as chair of LA and I look forward to continuing Roger’s work and seeing the firm go from strength to strength.”

Managing partner Matthew Barrow commented: “I am delighted to congratulate Suki on his new role. I have had the pleasure of working with Suki throughout my career and know he will be an invaluable addition to our Executive Board.”
