

Lester Aldridge London Office Relocates to Savoy Hill House

We are pleased to announce that Lester Aldridge's London office has relocated to Savoy Hill House in Covent Garden, marking an exciting new chapter for the firm's continued growth and development. The move reflects Lester Aldridge's commitment to enhancing its presence in the capital and providing a first-class working environment for its staff and clients.

Located in the heart of London, Savoy Hill House offers modern, state-of-the-art facilities in a prime location. The new office will enable Lester Aldridge to serve its diverse clientele while maintaining proximity to key business districts and transport links. The move aligns with the firm's strategic goals of expanding its reach and offering exceptional service to national and international clients.

John Townsend, Partner and Head of the Private Wealth Team at Lester Aldridge, commented: "This relocation to Savoy Hill House reflects our growing presence in the London market and our ongoing commitment to providing the highest level of service to our clients. The new office space allows us to enhance collaboration within our teams further and deliver innovative solutions to meet the evolving needs of our clients."

Lester Aldridge's London office plays a vital role in the firm's residential property, private wealth, court of protection, healthcare, family, real estate and dispute resolution teams, serving private clients, charities and businesses in the UK and overseas.

The move to Savoy Hill House underlines Lester Aldridge's dedication to fostering a dynamic and modern work environment as it continues evolving with the market's and clients' demands.