

Lester Aldridge Completes Hotel Acquisition for Daish's Holidays

Lester Aldridge has acted for Daish's Holidays on the acquisition of Robinsons Coach Tours, giving the group two more hotels, and adding a fleet of 13 coaches to their portfolio.

The LA team, led by Real Estate Partner Lucy Garvey and Corporate Partner Edward Adamson, acted for long-standing client Daish's Group on the purchase of the hotels and coaches from the Holdsworth Family.

The family-owned Daish's Holidays now has 12 hotels, located in popular tourist destinations across the UK, from Kendal to Newquay. The company also has a fleet of 25 luxury coaches to transport its guests in comfort across the UK.

The newly purchased Imperial Hotel in Eastbourne and the Abbey Lawn Hotel in Torquay will open in February following refurbishment.

Lester Aldridge's specialist team is experienced in all aspects of hotel and leisure transactions including sales and purchases, lettings, development projects, management and franchise agreements, and financing.

Lucy Garvey, partner at Lester Aldridge, said: 'We were delighted to complete the hotel and coach company acquisition on behalf of our valued client, Daish's Group. It was a pleasure to work with George Brown and the team at Daish's again, and great to see the purchase complete despite the challenges of completion taking place during the middle of the second lockdown!'
