

Lester Aldridge Listed as a Seniors Housing Awards Finalist

Leading South Coast law firm Lester Aldridge has been announced as a finalist for Legal Advisor of the Year at the HealthInvestor Seniors Housing Awards 2023.

Organised by HealthInvestor magazine, the Seniors Housing Awards recognises the best talent across the retirement living sector, with strong competition in every category. An independent judging panel assesses entries in five distinct categories – development, services, finance and operations, innovation and advisory.

The winners will be announced at a gala dinner on Tuesday, 3 October, at the Hilton Bankside, London.

Lester Aldridge provides legal advice and assistance to clients nationwide in the healthcare and later living sectors. The firm's real estate group works closely alongside expert teams in healthcare, corporate & commercial, employment, and dispute resolution, providing a seamless and unified service to its clients in the sector.

Mark Benham, Partner and Head of Real Estate at Lester Aldridge, said: "We are delighted to have been recognised as finalists in this category for the second year in a row, alongside some excellent national firms. LA has a long history of advising leading retirement developers and care home providers across the country. This is an interesting time for a fascinating sector, and we continue to help our clients navigate its many challenges."